I thought I knew you, I guessed that you
Thought you knew me, taking me places and Buying me everything, walks all alone, and the Smile that I thought was just mine,
But you didn't mention the best part of you, was a lie.

Something's not right, better not stay, been there
Before and I'm back there again, taking me on
Just for the ride, I'm not buying this time...

What's left to say when this love is just Coming undone...
You're living a lie and it's 3 hearts get broken
Not one...

Run back to her, pick up your life, the next day
You're here and you're right by my side. Tell you to go,
Then tell you to stay...

Cause baby I feel, that I'm just not good enough,
But baby just see, that I'm there by your side,
But I'm walking behind, and I'm everything you need.

What could be so hard, than be with the one
That you love, I shouldn't have to sit down and Try to convince you of that...
