No matter how high you fly
Events conspire against your state of mind
No matter how hard you try
There's always someone trying to bring you down

Won't let it bring me down
Got more important things to do
Won't let it bring me down
When events conspire against my state of mind

Against my state of mind
Against my state of mind
Events will conspire
Against my state of mind

No matter how well you sleep
Daylight always robs you of your dreams
No matter how smart you are
Nothing's ever simple as it seems

Won't let it bring me down
Got more important things to do

Won't let it bring me down
When events conspire against my state of mind

Against my state of mind
Against my state of mind
Events will conspire
Against my state of mind

No matter how well you ride
Some mother fucker knock you off that horse
No matter where you think you are
Distractions always steer you from your course

Won't let it bring me down
Got more important things to do
Won't let it bring me down
When events conspire against my state of mind

Against my state of mind

Against my state of mind
Events will conspire
Against my state of mind
