I had this feeling
I'd give you a call
We hadn't talked since
Our backs were to the wall

Remember that rainy night
When it all came to an end
Our tears they paved the streets
We'd gone beyond the bend

I wrote a thousand times
About the love we shared
Crossed out a thousand lines
Couldn't get nowhere

I heard you walked down the isle
Is it true?
And I heard your true true love
He up and left you

I still believe
True love ain't far
I got a few more greys and some battle scars

But I still believe

You won't be surprised to know
That I am still the same
Can't shake what eats me up
Like you can't remove a stain

I've discovered meanings
And truths I didn't know
I've learned just when to hold on
And when to let it go

I still believe
True love ain't far
I got a few more greys and some battle scars
But I still believe
True love ain't far

True love ain't far
True love and far for me
True love ain't far
True love ain't far for me
