Verse 1

Your mama says that through the week you can't go out with me but when the weekend comes around she knows where we will be

Chorus

Kissing in the back row
of the movies on a saturday night with you holding hands together you and i holding hands together (yeah) smooching in the back row
of the movies on a saturday night with you we could stay forever you and i
we could stay forever you and i hugging and a kissing in the back row of the movies

Verse 2

Every night i pick you up from school cause your my steady date but from monday through to friday night i leave you at the gate (yeah) you know we can't have too much fun til all your homeworks done but when the weekend comes You knows where we will be

Chorus

of the movies on a saturday night with you
holding hands together you and i
holding hands together (yeah)
of the movies on a saturday night with you
we could stay forever you and i
we could stay forever you and i
hugging and a kissing in the back row of the movies

Verse 3

i sit alone at night and watch tv but i still think of you and i am in the game for that we share a junk or two you know friends don't knock on my door on friday night any more Cause when the weekend comes They know where i will be

Chorus

of the movies on a saturday night with you
holding hands together you and i holding hands together (o yeah)
smooching in the back row
of the movies on a saturday night with you
we could stay forever you and i
hugging and a kissing in the back row of the movies
yeah
hugging and a kissing in the back row of the movies
