its every night in question reflect on converstations said
just take this from me ill try and make it easy forget the times that did mean so much it kills to forget these nights spent out in nj missing lights like memories fading i dont care what nights in question i wont forget your last expression ever can this be better with one more shot?
can you bottle it up?
write the same song for a month in hopes of one day getting back to being honest well now the lines been crossed is it right or is it wrong? well nothing wrong can feel this right if up to me id stay all night from here on out dont think too much we'll keep in sight
we'll stay in touch for every line i ever dropped heres just one more to top things off forever lets make this better with one more shot well i bottled it up wrote the same song for a month now lets get back to being honest
