Oh no, it's sad
You hide away
And you're not coming back
Nobody knows how it's gonna be
I can see a week up ahead of me

You took the long way
And it was the wrong way

Go home you have nothing else
Each night fades and you wonder yourself
When will I wake up if I'm not asleep
I can hear a low moan inside of me

You took the long way
And it was the wrong way

What do you think when I'm not leaving
What would you do now if this got wasted
When are you coming 'cause I'm not sleeping
What do you now I'm not there drinking you in

Oh no, it's sad
you melt away
And you're not coming back
Nobody knows how it's gonna be
I can see a week up ahead of me

You took the long way
Yeah it's a wrong wrong way

Go home you have nothing else
Each night glows and you wonder yourself
When will I wake up if I'm not asleep
I can hear low moans inside of me

You took the long way
It was the wrong wrong way

What do you think when I'm not weeping
What would you do now if this got wasted

when are you coming 'cause I'm not sleeping
What are you doing now I'm not there drinking you in
