As we crawl up the stairs
Grabbing everything falling down
We rip through shades to see the light
Finding hope in broken life

Just as we see some sky
I turn my head and then I close my eyes
I know that this won't end
It's just finding out the right way to begin

We're finding hope in life
You're my dreams tonight
With you I'm fallin' in love
For the very first time

We're crawling up these stairs
Grabbing everything that's falling down
We rip the shades down
To see the sky and all its light

We're finding hope in life
You're my dreams tonight
With you I'm fallin' in love
For the very first time

Open up my arms (find my way back, find my way back)
When you fall in, we're looking up at stars (find my way back, find my way back) We're singing a song (find my way back, find my way
We're talking and we're singing our way home
