Well, I don't care whose listening

There's no one I trust

Well cheer up- most have got worse than us

And I don't feel good unless I'm lying next to you

Nothing lasts forever - well, ain't that the truth.

Cause I am losing, I am losing you

I am losing, I am losing you

You were in San Francisco, waiting on a bus

I was in the Windy City

When you called about us

We stayed up all night crying on the phone

Guess nobody, no one, wants to be alone

Cause I am losing, I am losing you

I am losing I am losing you

Tried taking it for granted, tried to cherish each day

But nothing really matters, because I am away.

I am losing, I am losing you

I am losing, I am losing you

I am losing, I am losing you

I am losing, I am losing you
