All this space, expansive
Beautiful terrain
Enough to fulfill years
And adventure endlessly
But I hang out inside cubes
Inside other cubes
Go home and stare at tubes
Trimmed the fat that made me human
I cease to exist
I touch nothing real
I just claw at it
Survival not needed
Hyper-evolved new beings
Creatures we share this earth with
Look, don't touch cause they're for eating
Cities built into the sky
How did we get so high?
Means so far removed from the ends
Don't know what I'm doing or why
Weathered the storm but forgot what it's for
Trapped outside the norm and I'm useless
Used to see the past and the future intact
But I've struck a discord and I'm bored
