[Verse 1:]

How to begin, can I be honest?
It took a while just to write this, well here it is.
I needed courage just to grab the pen,
The same weapon you affected me with I use to recite this,
That's my word, so ironic,
How these phonics are made of frequency waves that can stir,
Oceans of emotions and evoke them old things
I need composure just to compose them.
Digging up memories I tried to bury,
Unlocking tombs that I bolted
And I don't know if you'll ever hear me,
But I got salt in my wounds from the tears that resulted.
Every hurt shows we're mortal,
And every scar has a story, every story has a moral,
Every memory's a portal to the past pain
And most of the time it's caused by somebody with your last name.

[Hook:]

Like a car running into a brick wall,
Is how your words crashed into my heart
What was so minor to you was so major to me
And all I wait for are words like "I'm sorry", "forgive me".
I'm still bleeding, I'm still bleeding,
I'm still bleeding, I'm still bleeding.

[Verse 2:]

The same tongue that you used to say you love me
Was being shoved in somebody else's mouth,
Don't you touch me. I'm disgusted.
You should've just told me that you lust me.
Trust fell out from underneath me,
And the walls from the house we built fell down and then crushed me.
Walking on stilts, losing my balance,
Your words are so filthy, I don't even know the damage God used words to create this planet so be careful with

'em.
It isn't even really what you said, it's what you didn't
I left text and voice mails, you acting like you missed them,
I got confirmation they delivered,
You spoke silence, you just gon' and stay quiet like I ain't existent
Well, look at how things shifted. You blew kisses now you want some more slickness
And I ain't even got it inside me to give forgiveness
I gotta find it at the place where he said it's finished.
Yeah, you tried to kill me with your words,
But now I use words to make a living
With the DJ oh how the tables turn,
So I'm a use mine to point people to the savior,
The one who speak right to the dead and they wake up,
Stick and stones may break some bones
And some words scar forever, your hard forever.
Make it hard to get up, hurt people, hurt people See you were just bleeding and you wanted me to bleed too.

[Hook:]

Like a car running into a brick wall,
Is how your words crashed into my heart
What was so minor to you was so major to me
And all I wait for is words like "I'm sorry", "forgive me".
I'm still bleeding, I'm still bleeding,
I'm still bleeding, I'm still bleeding.
