I need time away, away from all time
To make a change, to change my mind
I wanna give, I wanna share
I wanna sing like it's a prayer

If we only had a minute to ourselves

I could find hope there with You
I could find something to do
Even though I've been missing out for quite some time
We could find places to go

We could unlearn all we know
I could be Yours and You'd be mine for all of time

I got dirty hands, I got dirty feet
From all the things I can't repeat
I talk all the day 'bout how I want it to be
But it's my own fault that I'm not free
