It's one way in, it's one way out it's one stop, one cop, one bar town where its eight-ball winner breaks, loser racks it's the same old cars and the same old trucks the same old coach with the same bad luck but on friday nights the home team side is packed it's every reason I left and every reason I go back

CHORUS

yeah it's the same old, same old, nothing's changed where everybody knows your name it's a dirt road trip down memory lane and old flame I cant get passed it's every reason that I left and every reason I go back it's the same old questions from my momma's mouth it's my dads voice "hey boy" just wearing me out about "yes, sir yes ma'am" you dont talk back it's the same cheap buddies with the same cheap beer with the same cheap shots that I always fear and them same old stories still get the same old laughs

it's evey reason that I left and every reason I go back

CHORUS x2

and old flame I cant get passed

oh I cant wait to get back
