

The Explosion

"Aman"

Visit "Aman" on MotoLyrics.com

(Jeff SilbarSteve Plunkett)

Alarm clock rocks me at five-thirty a.m.

Six-fifteen I'm on the road again

Boss man watchin' every move I make

Too many hours, too little pay

But when I get home at the end of the day

Chorus

You're the livin' I been workin' for

(You're the livin')

Six days a week and sometimes more

(You're the livin')

I know the moment that I walk in the door

You're the livin' I been workin' for

In a castle or a double-wide

You're all I need to be satisfied

When I think about how far we've come

I count my blessings and you're number one

Chorus

Don't need nothin'....but your lovin'

Life don't get no better than this

(Instrumental)

That's right!

Too many hours, too little pay

When I get home at the end of the day

Chorus

Visit The Explosion page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.