Blind, they point us to the cliffs
Watch your step the traps are set to kill
Are we afraid of falling short?
It's misdirection I see

We are the sons and daughters of broken homes
Kings of great peace couldn't compare to us
Cause we are the light wherever darkness breeds
And we will never bow to them.

Coy, they trick the best of us
A preachers smile
Behind a pulpit of flame
Are you a slave to brain damage?
Lets fight monsters we feed

We are the sons and daughters of broken homes
Kings of great peace couldn't compare to us
Cause we are the light wherever darkness breeds
And we will never bow to them

We are the sons and daughters of broken homes
Kings of great peace couldn't compare to us
Cause we are the light wherever darkness breeds
And we will never bow to them
