[Verse 1:]

Thanks to you and yours for bumpin our music We love it when the public has us as something to groove with
Feel like it's our purpose, the music game is a circus
So we'll put our story down to make it have half a purpose
It's working picture perfect, you learning part of our lives
We different from other artists, we don't feed you lies We fucked up and got fucked up on a beat
But we still pushin it all day in the streets
So when it comes out your speakers we love to see your face
We're happy as all hell whenever we get played Cause we really fucking do it, no it is not a game You gonna recognize the face and remember our name
So to everybody listening to the mixtape
Thank you very much, whether you love it or hate We never claim to be the best, but we claim to raise the stakes
And I swear that we'll do whatever it is that it takes

[Hook:]

Thanks for bumpin our music, music, music
Bumpin our music
You listening to a new day
So let them haters hate
Roll down the windows, turn it loud and let the speakers
play
Bumpin our music, music, music
Bumpin our music
You listening to a new day
So let them haters hate
Roll down the windows, turn it loud and let the speakers
play
It's a new day

[Verse 2:]

You know it's a new day and we came to make it hot

Make it sizzle, make it fizzle, put our cd in the slot Put us on, blast with the volume at the last decible Suggestable, we came to make it last Clash of the titans when we writing it's a task To not come up with something that makes one of us laugh
It's always something bubbling and rumbling up in your system
What's with them? it's like our visions to go and hit them
Write lickity split, spitting it lickity quick Strictly equipped to handle lifes bitchityness Let you catch up for a minute, hit them with the give and go
But nobody goes when we give it They're attracted to our shit, have them bouncing in this bitch
Got the girls in my mind that can drop it like a switch
And pop it like a stick against a balloon Ya'll should really say "what's up? "
Hope to hear from you soon, thank you.
