I got knocked back
And I'd start to perspire
Sunglasses black
So you can't see the fire
She put up the walls
So I pulled down the shades
Then I got bit
But the joke's on you
I'd get so bored
So I'd start me a project
You were all but ignored
Man, I got me a soul to protect
I saw the daily grind
From a steep incline
They wouldn't take my mind
No they couldn't waste my time
She wrote me a letter
So I'll come back with a number
I'll call it I got bit
And the joke's on you
I hope we all bounce back
If we're all so grounded
I hope you'll always go back
To where your spirit got pounded
I'll be there calling bullshit
I grabbed my back
Then it put out the fire
Sunglasses black
So you can't see the wire
She put up a fit
Surrounded by my shit
Oh honey, I got friends
So what the fuck are you?
I got friends
More than you think I do
