"La Docena"

My heart was the sun
Before The earth Opened up
Stitched up my mouth
Tied up my hands
I am a loss
Your song was the air
That my lungs could not hold
When we fell asleep
I broke into glass
And became your fears

I know, I know that it shows
Porque mi amore... oh

So he wrapped you in wire
Which stole your faith
And left your eyes taped
I am the cure that you spit out
Lynched on a nail
For every stone that we throw
How it left your body worn
I am the fool who will repeat,
And then you'll know

I know, I know that it shows
Porque mi amore... oh
What will you have of me?
