Looking at the tragedy surrounding
All the destruction and insanity
Then you fall to your knees and pray it's only a dream
All the shattered pieces of what used to be

But when you feel alone, in the danger zone
When all you know, you've ever known is gone
When the enemy wants you to hide
Reach deep down inside to find that strength to carry on and stay alive

[Chorus:]

When all hope seems gone
When the clouds all hide the sun
When you're facing the enemies gun
When it seems your life has come undone
When you're falling down to broken knees
Hold your head high, don't accept defeat
Believe, keep the faith, ignite a spark
You could be the light in the dark

Lost within the wreckage
And searching for a way with no direction
Behind enemy lines with no protection
Don't you dare get stuck in the shadows of depression

But when you feel alone, in the danger zone
When all you know, you've ever known is gone
When the enemy wants you to hide
Reach deep down inside to find that strength to carry
on and stay alive

[Chorus:]

When all hope seems gone
When the clouds all hide the sun
When you're facing the enemies gun
When it seems your life has come undone
When you're falling down to broken knees
Hold your head high, don't accept defeat
Believe, keep the faith, ignite a spark
You could be the light in the dark

[Chorus:]

When all hope seems gone
When the clouds all hide the sun
When you're facing the enemies gun
When it seems your life has come undone
When you're falling down to broken knees
Hold your head high, don't accept defeat
Believe, keep the faith, ignite a spark
You could be the light in the dark
