When the blood was red and the lies were black and white
They put their hands together they thought they're right
We know they made mistakes but we still imitate
Keep the spirit alive when there's nothing left at stake

Now our heroes seem further away
Your fists in the air but nothing has changed
Would they shake their heads, would they feel ashamed?
Your schemes kill our dreams it's self abuse

All we know is what came before
There's no revolution anymore
We look to the past and ask for nothing more
There's no revolution anymore

On the edge of tomorrow what are we fighting for
We fight each other whenever we get bored
Jaded kids hatred wins and we all lose
Your schemes kill our dreams it's self abuse

All we know is what came before
There's no revolution anymore
We look to the past and ask for nothing more
There's no revolution anymore

Lets light a match to these dynamite dreams
Lets let it all go and set it all free
I vote for the outcasts the losers and creeps
Who can bring it back again make me believe

There's no revolution anymore, no revolution anymore
There's no revolution anymore, no revolution anymore
There's no revolution anymore, no revolution anymore
There's no revolution anymore, no revolution anymore
