Tonight I'd rather be in love,
I'd rather it was you flowin' through my mind
Scrapin' through my veins, my everything

And you cling to every thread
That clings to me

CHORUS:

I live in notes and photographs
And everything I'm holdin' back
Like all the words that weren't enough
You remind me of a song I used to love

I couldn't call you if I wanted
My fingers couldn't work if they tried
They're so sore from keeping crossed and
Tracing over cuts on my worthless arms
If I said i hated that feeling,
It would be a lie

CHORUS x4
