What can I say to you
That we haven't said before?
I've had enough and i can't take it anymore
And now what should i do?
Am i better off without you?
All this talk and nothing's changed-Oh yeah

Nothing left to say
We've said it all anyway
Let's call it quits and go our separate ways
Wish it didn't have to end this way
But it doesn't matter anyway

I know you oh so well and i can already tell
What you'll say before the words come out
You've made your points clear,
But you're not getting anywhere
There's no need to drag it oh-OH yeah

[Chorus]
