"Parading"

So you want company is that all
Serenading everyone with everything you know
You just want eyes that see you
When you hide
When you've worn every dress
And worn out every smile

[Refrain]
Parading, parading the town
Still waiting for someone to lay you down
Lay you down

Maybe I could help if you like
I know someone who can make you sleep like a baby
When you feel all alone, it's a li
Maybe it's hard to just take my word
But you'll see when you try

[Refrain]
I'm throwing
I'm throwing you the line
That saved me and made all
That was breaking fine
