You doubt me and make my decisions for me
You doubt me and make my decisions for me
I won't take your advice not now not then I never will
You doubt me and make my decisions for me
Why can't I find my peace of mind
One more time and I'm sure I'll find It.
What I found, I found myself
What I found, I found myself.
You don't trust me so You detach me from my friends and everything else
One more time and I'm sure
Sure enough now to let it go
You doubt me and make my decisions for me.
Why can't I find my peace of mind
One more time and I'm sure I'll find it.
What I found, I found myself
What I found, I found myself.
Knocking me down on knees again
Time worn shorn off the skin again
I won't be left here starved thin
One more time and I'm sure to leave You offended.
