

The Explosion

"Think Of Me"

This time bomb was building up for so long,
This fire at the end of it's fuse - fuck you,
You've bought everything that you got.
What you've got is not real you see, you have no
integrity.
How great things would be if you never crossed paths
with me.

Why did you act like you'd build me up?
When all you wanted was to take me down.
I hope you think of me when you're burning in hell.

This time bombs exploding into this song,
Realized enemy among us - you suck,
In your mind, you may think that you won,
When you stumble out of the haze, fall upon your last days.
Don't think you got away,
There's a greater price that you'll pay.

Why did you act like you'd build me up?
When all you wanted was to take me down.
I hope you think of me when you're burning in hell.
I hope I never see you again.
