I know you more, that you could tell
And i can't believe the words you said
The things i've heard
You want so bad, to heal my pain
But there's so much hurt inside my head
I can't forget

Could you try to explain why you left me all alone?
Would i try to forgive why you made me so unpure

I've waited long to have you here
Dreaming this things i want to hear
To make all clear
You call me one day without explaining
Without knowing i've been through hell
And you were not there!

Could you try to explain why you left me all alone?
Would i try to forgive why you made me so unpure (x2)

And i just want you to know
I'm doing well on my own
And thought I'd try to be strong
It's been so hard to grow up...without a home

Could you try to explain why you left me all alone?
Would i try to forgive why you made me so unpure (x2)
