Ainy (I had no idea)

I had no idea nor intention to fall in love.
I thought I was smart enough for all that.
I thought I would not have to lose sleep or have my heart in your hands, just from one look at you.
My wish is to stay up all night beside you.
Listening to your voice singing for me with dancing
rhythms.
You are my companion through the hard moments,
you make my sufferance vanish.
I'm lost in love, no food nor a drink.
Only my longing for you is my guide.
I spend my nights just thinking about you.
Why is love doing this to me?
Playing with me, swinging me left and right.
I was fine before I fell in love but my days were just passing by.
