Lady in a black dress I like the way you look.
I like your hair and waist.
Your red scarf around your neck fills me with warm feelings.
And let me miss you more.
I like the dark make-up that matches your black eyes.
The necklace around your neck falls on your chest.
And sleeps there dreaming in our world.
I live your earrings attached so hard to your ears
and your pink colored lips.
Your lovely perfume flying, singing and greeting all the people you know.
The night is amazed by your dark eyelashes.
The lights are shining on your cheeks.
No one can compete with your beauty.
I thank my lucky eyes that I saw your beauty.
My heart will sing for you with a soft voice.
I'm wondering what happened to me.
