I have been here for so long,
Yet Ive got so much of my life to live.
I wish that I could leave,
See what there is beyond me.
Everyday my thoughts are invaded
By these doubts that tear me up inside.
Every time I just push them away
Because I just dont want to deal with them.
I panic for I know that I have no answer
And I know I never will be sure.

I know its wrong.
But I cant shake the feeling
That Im being led astray.
I know its wrong
But I cant shake the feeling
That this is all there is.

Fragile is this life we live,
No one second is guaranteed.
How can we make it worthwhile?
How can we justify our living over another?
How can we get rid of this voice in the back of our head?
How is it that we can keep on,
Just repeating, ignorance is bliss?
That is just soothing bullshit,
That people tell themselves just to get through the day.
Well, I dont want to live that way.
I wont live that way.
I want an answer,
A solid rock that I can stand on.
Something that can make this noise go away.

I know its wrong
But I cant shake the feeling
That Im being led astray.
I know its wrong
But I cant shake the feeling
That this is all there is.

How can anyone be sure?
Uncertainty is the only sure thing.
(whispered) Ignorance is bliss
I need to know
I need to set my mind at ease
(whispered) Ignorance is bliss
I wont just walk through this life mindless
Until the day I die.
(whispered) Ignorance is bliss
I cant enjoy this life knowing this is it
And that these few years is my only reward.
(whispered) Ignorance is bliss
Why does anything matter?
Nothing
