"Stab Me Please"

I walk around in a daze
I am so amazed
And I just can't believe it.
Those who I called friends
Seem to be the ones in the end
Who've been fucking me up from the start.
Hard to see an attack
When it occurs behind your back
And they stab me, stab me again.

Stab me, please,
Please, stab me.
My back can take it (you should know)
Stab my back again,
Stab me please

All this time I trusted you
And I belived in you
You are nothing but the same
You think this is just a game.
This makes no difference to you
How is this different from truth?
You were never real all along
You can't see that this is wrong.

Can't be up front
When all your ways are backward.
Can't be true
When all you know are lies.
Can't be faithful
When all you know is to cheat.
Can't be loving
When all you know is hate.

Stab me, please,
Please, stab me.
My back can take it (you should know)
Stab my back again,
Stab me please

All this time I trusted you

And I believed in you.
You are nothing but the same
You think this is just a game.
This makes no difference to you
How is this different from truth?
You were never real all along
You can't see that this is wrong.

Can't be up front
When all your ways are backward.
Can't be true
When all you know are lies.
Can't be faithful
When all you know is to cheat.
Can't be loving
When all you know is hate.

All this time I trusted you
And I believed in you.
You are nothing but the same
You think this is just a game.
This makes no difference to you
