Well the warriors of justice
Came down from their pillars
And the widows with their lovers
Sing the sad song of love
Sing this sad serenade of love

Well the warriors they were noble
Held their heads to the sky
But they mistook all their freedoms
For a god given right
For some godless human right

Till the chosen one
Made his way to the front
yeah the chosen one
Paved the way
For the new line of defense
Lay their bodies down to rest
This is love
This is love
This is love
And the warriors of virtue
Stood their ground for nearly a decade
Close at arms with their brothers
All our hope began to fade
All our hope began to fade

Till the chosen one
Made his way to the front
Yeah the chosen one
Paved the way
For the new line of defense
Lay their bodies down to rest
This is love
This is love
This is love
This is love
This is love
This is love
