Can somebody please help me
I'm lost and so alone
All I want are my dreams back
All I want is a song

Cause at night when sleeping
And my thoughts have their way
My body lay still
But i still hear you say

You have always been my everything
But life's too short so we went separate ways

And thats when I wake up

Life slaps me in the face

Can somebody please take me
To the place I was before
Before I knew the life
That lived behind those doors

Well this times different
And everything has changed
I may not be listening
But i can still hear you say

You have always been my everything
But life's too short so we went separate ways (2x)

Separate ways
