Fall to the ground, my life is found
A pretty boy in the saddest part of town
We drove for miles and we turned around
To the hospital to make sure you're safe and sound

She'd come over late at night
A beautiful girl, beautiful eyes
The timing was just right
Its a shame you were never mine (and she said)

It's crazy
Sure ain't what it seems
It saves me
Can you tell me what you mean?

I realize what I have to do
I close my eyes pretending what's not true
As dusk approaches without you
Laying in a field with the everwhite moon (while she said)

It's crazy
Sure ain't what it seems
It saves me
Can someone change the scene? x3
