

The Fire Tonight "Be Rejected"

Visit "Be Rejected" on MotoLyrics.com words spilling out like a flood into the air with a shove pushing away the rejection that you feel from within over again

always reassuring everyone that you belong as you run into the place that you think they all will be it makes me cringe

the desperate cry
to be received without a lie your deep felt need i see in me honesty trades for a facade that you proudly display and applaud because, who the hell, likes who we really are [chorus]

drive to truth and self acceptance brings a storm of deep repentance disappointment self projected i don't want to be rejected
