To love and lose is better than left out
Just like baseball everyone strikes out
But I don't know why you would try and lie to me again
When I've been through this a thousand times
And now I'm not letting in

Only a miracle could save you now
But I'm not sure that miracles happen to people like you
And only a miracle can make me see the things you do
And miracles really do come true
Cause now I'm leaving you you

Every once in a while one of us finds out
Just what it feels like when it all works out
But I don't know why you would try to lie to me again
When I've been through this a thousand times
And now I'm not letting in

Only a miracle could save you now
But I'm not sure that miracles happen to people like you
And only a miracle can make me see the things you do
And miracles really do come true
Cause now I'm leaving you you

It don't phase me, baby
You got to go
Bombs away
Well oh baby lately
You last to now

And only a miracle could save you now
But I'm not sure miracles happen to people like you
And only a miracle can make me see the things you do
And miracles really do come true
Cause now I'm leaving you

Now I'm leaving you
