Its window dressing on new wounds
Helping those old scars stay in style
Chalk-marking up all those scenes
Marking the death of our denial
Its not a question of what was said not a question of what was done
Just a question of what was read
We dont question what we all become

Chorus: Seems like youre saving
Youre only just trading away
Cant trust the shading
When it seems that youre fading away

Its window dressing on old wounds
Helping these new scars feel in style
Chalk-marking up all those scenes
Marking the death of my denial

Its a not a question of what was lead
Not a question of all weve done
Just a question of what we wed
We dont question what we all become

Chorus

They say defend myself
Im so sick of defending myself
