Ira Scott Levin
"The Sultan of Time"

If I only had the time, I would visit all my friends.

I would write a book of rhymes, and my song would never end...

I hear him sing, but he never has the time for me.

I wish that I could set my father free.

I Am- the Sultan, but not from the East. I come from within,

I AM- always in reach.

Come take my hand and well climb,

for I AM - the Sultan of Time.

If I only had the day, I would surely make amends.

If I didnt have to pay all these bills that never end...

I hear her sing, but she never has the time for me.

I wish that I could set my mother free.

I Am- the Sultan, but not from the East. I come from within,

I AM- always in reach.

Come take my hand and well climb,

for I AM - the Sultan of Time.

If I only had an hour, I would tell you how I feel,

But the work gets in the way, theres no time for what is real...

I hear him sing, but he never has the time for me.

I wish that I could set my brother free.

If I only had this moment, I would stop and catch my breath.

I would put away this fear, because it worries me to death...

I hear her sing, but she never has the time for me.

I wish that I could set my sister free.

I Am- the Sultan, but not from the East.

(Nigh, nigh, nigh, nigh,nigh, nigh,

nigh, nigh, nigh, nigh, nigh, nigh.)

I come from within, I AM- always in reach.

(Nigh, nigh, nigh, nigh,nigh, nigh,

nigh, nigh, nigh, nigh, nigh, nigh.)

Come take my hand and well climb,

for I AM - the Sultan of Time.

Time for your sister and time for your dad.

Time for the things