You chase the fire
You paint the signs
I walk the wire
You shout lines

There was a time when my mind
Was made up by you
Is this a deja vu
Am I just missing you?

I've been here before and lived
To the thrill of it all
I might be in the dark
But I'm watching you

You, you chase the fire
But you can't take the heat
You, you slay the lion
And you won't taste the meat

Your look was all it took
To get me hooked on you
My eyes were closed
Now I'm watching you

You, you chase the fire
But you can't take the heat
You, you slay the lion
And you won't taste the meat
I've been here before and we chased

So you chase the fire
You paint the signs
I walk the wire
You shout lines

There was a time when my lines
Were made up by you
Is this a deja vu?
Am I just seeing through

You, you chase the fire

But you can't take the heat
You, you slay the lion
And you won't taste the meat, oh no
I've been here before and lived [incomprehensible]

And you, you chase the fire
You chase the fire

You chase the fire
You paint the signs
I walk the wire

You chase the fire
You paint the signs
I walk the wire

Don't tell me you, you're gonna chase the fire
I've to see that you, when you touch the fire
They say that you, witches don't burn
And you won't take the heat
