Every night I pray that you will return to me
And love me like you did before
Every night I pray that you might still burn for me
And you'll be coming through that door
I still hold on to the dream
That you never wanted to go
I still can't hold to my dreams
But there's something you should know

Chorus:

On the edge of a broken heart
I sit and Wait for you
On the edge of a broken heart
There's not much more I can do
Repeat (1x)

Everyday I hear all my friends say to me
You're never ever coming home
Everyday I still hear your sweet voice say to me
You'll never ever be alone
I still can't believe its been years
Since you had to say goodbye
All alone I still grieve
The tears after you I cry

Chorus (4x)
