2012

The end of the world is near

It is the year 2012 And it is written that the end of the world is near

Very soon life as you know it today won't be possible anymore

Black acid rain will come across the land To turn the world into a place of chaos, death and destruction

Living in the underworld will become reality And survival of the fittest will be the only law So you better start to prepare yourself, because the armageddon is about to begin Welcome to the final chapter Welcome to the beginning of the end

The armageddon is about to begin Welcome to the final chapter Welcome to the beginning of the end

2012

Finaly Judgement day has come No more dreams of a better tomorrow No more hope for the future This is the final chapter, this is the end

You better believe, because the armageddon is about to begin
