You've got a right to be angry
(alexander/badlees)
You've got a right to complain

But just being right
You've got a right to be angry
Ain't gonna change anything
You've got a right to complain
You want understanding
But just being right
Without saying a word
Ain't gonna change anything
You want admiration

Even though it's undeserved
You want understanding

Without saying a word
It ain't no secret
You want admiration
Time took it's toll
Even though it's undeserved
I can't believe it

We're gettin' old
It ain't no secret

Time took its toll
One of us should stand up
I can't believe it
One of us should scream
We're gettin' old
One of us should step out

And say just what he means
one of us should say
One of us should scream
just what it is wr're fighting for
One of us should step out
but no one says nothing much

of anything no more
One of us should say

Just what it is were fighting for we all have defenses
and opinions to sell
Of anything no more
we all have our methods

of defending ourselves
We all have defenses
but there's nothing as lifeless
as a tree that don't bend
there's nothing as worthless
as a fair weathered friend

It ain't no secret
one of us should get up
one of us should get out
of the other one's way

one of us should face up
to what no one can ignore
but no one does nothing more
Of the other one's way

as you are me, but we just disagree But no one does nothing much now i ain't anything

and it's a world full of anger
As you are me, but we disagree
it's a world full of people
Now it ain't anything lookin' for someone else to blame

but it don't make no difference
if it don't make no sense
'cause the world goes on a changing
with or without our consent

if one of us was angry
It ain't no secret
if one of us was sad
if one of us was guilty
I can't believe it
it might not be that bad
We're gettin' old
if one of us was anything

we might know something more
but no one is nothing much

Of anything no more
