(alexander/naydock)

marlon brando eats alone tonight
I may be right but then, I don't know much about him there's a part of you my system lacks but through the cracks it only shows in bits and pieces

I always feel I'm talking to the person who last talked to you your rabbit's foot and four leaf clover only serve to run me over now

which one of you
will join me tonight which one of you will I see
are you trying to hide from me

I never understood this posturing the heart's a thing that makes or breaks your reputation if you were choking on excessive praise I couldn't raise an army strong enough to save you

which one of you will it be
are you trying to hide from me

are you the soldier with the world on his shoulders or are you the hero who never gets older the list goes on and on

the saddest thing's to see you fade away the slow decay it eats at me at every level
