I saw a friend as I walked down the street
He said let's sit down, get a load off our feet
We found a table inside a cafe
I smiled as we ordered and wondered what he had to say

He said I'm sorry, I just found out
I asked him what he was talking about
He said it's no secret, we've all heard the news
You're taking it great, you don't even look like you're blue
Why oh why was I the last one to know
Thought our love would do nothing but grow
It's all over town, I was the last one to know

I left my friend and walked out on the street
My head had been high, now I looked at my feet
My friends all look sad as I passed them on by My friends were all sad, I was the last to know why

Why oh why was I the last one to know
Thought our love would do nothing but grow
It's all over town, I was the last one to know

Mmmmm to know
Mmmmm to know
Mmmmm to know
