One dog buries a bone
And then the other dog digs it up
And finds a prize in store
One dog dies and the other dogs
Go dig him up a tomb with his name inscribed

And there on his tombstone carved so bold
The words are clear and strong
It says:

CHORUS

This one is for the eyes
For the eyes of the other dogs who come
It's for the eyes of the other dogs to come

One man digs a hole while another man shovels dirt
Inside another hole
One man says hello while another one is leaving
On a long journey to a place he'll nreturn

And there on his tombstone carved so bold
The words are clear and strong
It says:

CHORUS

Every entrence has an exit
And every doorknob has a twist
I wonder what my face looked like
Before it looked like this?

And there on his tombstone carved so bold
The words are clear and strong
It says:

CHORUS

-----
