When I first saw you looking at me, the gleam in your eyes made my heart skip a beat. My body felt nervous and my heart began to pound, as this test of love brought me to my knees. Feel any thoughts from the space from you and me. The love that I felt made me shake, made me weak, I'm locked in your spell and theres nothing I can do. As the day turns into night I am for you.

Soon I am hoping I will taste your luscious lips, fine like the wine just beyond my fingertips. A man and a woman will find true eternity, underneath the magic of the full moon!

Passion and lady! I give me your love! Mysterious lady, I need your love! The spell you've got me under, the eyes that make me wonder: Is this love a fantasy or is this love for real? Do you want me lady, I give me your love! I feel you coming lady, I'm needing your love!

Cuz all the things you do to me, then lock me up and set me free. Feeble of this crazy love, dances with a passion in my heart....
