(Omar Martinez/Ivana Santilli)

We've been through this all before, we've been through this all before.

Was it nineteen days ago that you wrote your note ?
Cause fourteen days before, I showed you the door.
Well, that month passed too quickly
Cause we've been fighting weekly.
We took some space, but I may need some more.
You shout that and I yell this
Then we make up and we kiss, wake up and we do it all again.

Oh, why do I know what comes next ? Know what happens after this.
We've been through this all before.
Know what you're about to say, never meant to hurt you babe.
We've been through this all before (before, before).

Well, I got that note of yours, just yesterday.
As with all good things from you, it came much too late (too slow).
There would never been a need for these lame apologies
If you took the time to fix all your old mistakes (oh).
The more I'm vexed, the more you diss
Then we laugh and reminisce, you and I are just ridiculous.

Oh, why do I know what comes next ? Know what happens after this.
We've been through this all before.
Know what you're about to say, never meant to hurt you babe.
We've been through this all before (before, before, before).

(We've been through this before) On and on.
(Been through this before) Again and again, I'm tired.

(We've been through this before) I don't like it, I've had it.

(Been through this before) This madness never ever ends.

(We've been through this before) Don't like it, see I've had it

(Been through this before) Will we keep doing this again and again ?

Oh, why do I know what comes next ? Know what happens after this.

We've been through this all before.

Know what you're about to say, never meant to hurt you babe.

We've been through this all before.

(Before, before... Been through this before)

We've been through this all before.

(Why do I know what comes next) We've been through this all before.
