The problems have been stacked up too high And this running trend of apathy paves the way draped over mounds to blame Soon to be curtains for every man, woman, and child that insist on hovering over rubble that's left quietly erupting My television doesn't quite know how to look at me right since I said I'd make it my duty to take out its entire race Fire walk through life with faith with filtered visions out of the picture now I humbly await the manifestation of eight

[Chorus]

Omega damned, there is no phone ringing
Omega damned, it is all inside my head
Omega damned, I cannot be all that's left

[Verse 2]

The future's bright in the literal sense, cup your hands to catch the yellow ultra violet gold that's given With every body racing towards that last piece of haven, tip the scales, cap size your dumping ground imprisoned Deafening indeed when bells ring the sound will cover all spires now conductors sending stadiums up in flames - that's entertainment When there's nothing left to watch and drool at vacantly forgotten how to conversate, proceed to chase the sleeping aid

[Chorus]

Omega damned, it is all inside my head
Omega damned, I cannot be all that's left

[Verse 3]

And there will always be tomorrow, we will overcome the obstacles Rebuild, start from scratch, for this scorched earth is plentiful Surrender your dead for fossil fuel Guaranteed terrain will be saved, solutions clearly there again
But it's too late, pay the toll - coins on the eye lids for all Permanent fixtures welded shut, now sit down and behave
For soon a rain will fall unlike any other seen before Beginning of the end, omega damned all praise

[Chorus]

Omega damned, it is all inside my head
Omega damned, I cannot be all that's left

There is no phone ringing
It is all inside my head
There is no phone ringing
I cannot be all that's left

Ringing sound

[Man Screaming]

There is no phone phone ringing damn it!
...There is no phone
