Cut! End Scene, now it's time to move on
To stage two in a different lighting
And atmosphere, but you're still stuck in the intro
And you can't get out
Cause you're so comfortable with everthing you've got
But what you got isn't really a lot
It's actually not much at all
And that's too bad, cause I'm movin on

To those who wanna live this life
And not sit on the side and watch it pass by
If you're fed up with lies and want the truth
Then this song is dedicated to you

I won't give into the cheap lies, and the cheap tricks
And the cheap laughs, they're in the past
And that's where all of my cheap friends seem to be stuck
You're like a bird running into a window over and over and over again
And it's amusing to us cause we can see the open door
To the right

I won't give in to you
