And the lights went off as the night came close,
But the day at least a mile away
Was it a sign of hope, a sign of lust,
Or was it just the same?
But then again we never know if we never try
So let's not think of this as our goodbye

And girl, don't be scared 'cause I'm a mess
Just know that it's not you
It's just I've been there before,
I've been there before,
And for now at least for now, trust me
It's just not worth going back

And the past came back as you woke me up
From the dream I had, it's not so bad
Was it the perfect sight, the picture perfect lie?
Or was it just the same?
But then again we never know if we never try
So hold your breath and stay another night

And girl, don't be scared 'cause I'm a mess
Just know that it's not you
It's just I've been there before,
I've been there before,
And for now at least for now, trust me
It's just not worth going back

Let's play the record we used to play
When things were great, when time stood still
Because this wave of life is taking me away

And girl, don't be scared 'cause I'm a mess
Just know that it's not you
It's just I've been there before,
I've been there before,
And for now at least for now, trust me
It's just not worth going back
