i never thought i'd be standing here with you especially after all you and me been through but like a shining star (?) fast and true so you held me down, you had me back and so i thank you, you you are better then the best i ever had you are better then the rest right after that you are so incredible, simply unbelievable damn i must of been something special

in my past life i must have been a saint in my past life i must have made a difference girl just to have you i must have been quite a man i must have gave everything the gods must have been smiling
in my past life i must have made a difference
i must have gave everything i had in my past life, in my past life must have stolen from the rich and gave to the poor i must have (?) and ended some wars cos i just can't believe what karma had install for me was an accident you're such a blessing

in my past life i must have made a difference
i must have gave everything
in my past life i must have made a difference
in my past life

i could have been anywhere but right here i could have been with anyone but you, but you, you, you and i ain't gonna let nobody come between us longer no and i ain't gonna let nobody get you shorty number no

in my past life i must have made a difference
i must have gave everything
in my past life i must have made a difference
in my past life, in my past life
in my past life, in my past life
