[J.A.M.E.S. Watts - whispering intensifies to normal voice] ...I spent so much time... ..spent so much time... I spent so much, spent so much... Listen... I spent so much time thus far in the same spaces No aim, this pain neever changes And I'm runnin in place tryna keep up with the world's paces Made me come to grips that I'm faceless And, choices I made that ain't been the best A slave to the game, I'm at the streets but hexed I'm accountable, can't move this way without a rest Simply came, it's amountable, I'm sorry for the stress For the tears that you tasted, all these years that we wasted We both still alive, but I wouldn't say that we made it We, got a whole lotta work to do And even thought it may be difficult, it's worth to do I hope that, works for you, I already made it worse for you Now I wanna put you first and prove on this love, on our past, on our future together Erases black cloud, we got yours' through forever And better this bond, I'll admit you never been wrong I was always off-key and how I played on this song But now it's gone...and I'm ready just to take this to where it always should've been, I hope I have your patience ...I hope I have your patience [Chorus: Frank G.] I can't, imagine Goin on without you, baby Though I've, done wrong I find I think about you lately Inside, of me There's a change I can't deny I just hope I have you here Because I know you're my life [J.A.M.E.S. Watts] Uh, you really made my nights so long as you walk this tightrope between right and wrong, but I don't judge Girl, this battle in my head almost rode me to the ledge I'm your very best, friend and I'm in love My sun, therefore, you are my light Devil tempts me to run, but you are my life Didn't wanna go to war yet I earned my stripes And a fair share of scars is proof of my fight You said, you couldn't help it, left me feelin helpless My need to be selfless was selfish and your apologies, yeah I hear 'em In fact, I just wanna take this time to give 'em all back 'Cause everything you are, I made, what you have I gave Made a promise to be your rock, so now I can't cave And now, I can't hide from the truth This is us together, God willing this is us forever Only need one you to make, us It's better for me to have you than not, so I trust we'll sever All resentments the past brought forth and pain is a certain as the rain, of course But any hate you feel, I'ma fight with full force And any love I have, rest assure that it's yours ...It's yours [Chorus]
